

Study the latest insights in digestive health

The current issue features brand new original research for you to read entirely free of charge.

Here are the highlights selected by Editor-in-Chief Jan Tack:

- The risk of oesophageal adenocarcinoma in a prospectively recruited Barrett's oesophagus cohort
- Timing of oral refeeding in acute pancreatitis: A systematic review and meta-analysis
- Risk factors for complications after ileocolonic resection for Crohn's disease with a major focus on the impact of preoperative immunosuppressive and biologic therapy: a retrospective international multicentre study

Find out more

Late-Breaking abstracts and more UEG Week 2016 highlights

Access all late-breaking abstracts of recent UEG Week including citations. Find out who has been awarded for outstanding achievements at the congress or take a quick look back at the best scientific moments.

Find out more

Leadership roles for women in gastroenterology

Interested in initiatives for the new generation of gastroenterologists? Rebecca Fitzgerald and Madalina Ilie present new gender-balanced leadership opportunities.

Got inspired? Do not wait to be asked and apply: the Young Talent Group is currently looking for new junior leaders.

Find out more

